The Right Place

Amy came into our Women's Center. Amy is what we call a "right placer," a woman who thinks she's going to an abortion clinic but ends up in one of our women's centers instead.

Because of relationship issues, Amy thought the best decision for her was an abortion. She wasn't sure how far along she was, but she was starting to feel her baby move. The ultrasound showed that Amy was well into her second trimester. When Amy realized the services we offered, and that we weren't the abortion clinic, her eyes were opened. She told us her walking into our center must have been an act of God, proving He didn't want her to abort her baby.

Praise God Amy decided to carry to term! She was excited to learn about all of the resources for material assistance and prenatal care we offered to her. She signed up to start Earn While You Learn classes to receive educational and material resources to care for her baby as well as much needed emotional and spiritual support.

We join Amy in thanking God for His intervention in bringing her into our Women's Center. And we thank you for supporting us in our efforts to be there for all of the "right placers" we serve.
